ONC Adds New Faculty Members

Dr. R. Wayne Gardner, chairman of the department of mathematics was a former professor of mathematics at Drake University, Des Moines, Iowa. Dr. Gardner is an outstanding educator in the Church of the Nazarene, having served as president of Eastern Nazarene College five years, and as a professor at Northwest Nazarene College.

Professor Leroy Brown is the head of the speech department. He is a graduate of the Free Methodist College at Greenville, Ill., and has his Master's degree from the University of Illinois. He is now completing work for the Doctorate degree at Bradley University. Mr. Brown taught Speech as an assistant at the University of Illinois and also at Bradley University.

Mrs. Leroy Brown, wife of Professor Brown, is teaching Public School Art. She is a graduate of Greenville College, Greenville, Illinois, and she has taken art work at the University of Illinois.

Professor Glover is a new teacher in the Division of Fine Arts. Mr. Glover teaches courses in Music Literature, Music History, Orchestral Literature, and Church Music, and is well qualified to pursue his work.

Mr. Glover earned both the B. Mus. and the B. S. Mus. Ed. degrees in four years at Knox College, Galesburg, Illinois. His M. S. in Mus. Ed. from University of Illinois was one of the first ten granted by that institution. In addition to this, Mr. Glover holds the Master of Sacred Music degree from the Union Theological Seminary, New York City, and has completed all requirements for the Doctor of Sacred Music degree also at the Union Theological Seminary. Mr. Glover is an Associate Member of the American Guild of Organists and is one of 56 in the United States to have the honor of holding the Choir Masters Degree, also granted by the American Guild of Organists. He has an English degree, F.

Dr. Young To Be Revival Speaker

DR. SAMUEL YOUNG

Miss Zook Assumes New Duties As Dean

Our new Dean of Women, Miss Kathryn Zook, is not new on Olivet campus since she was a student here four years and has taught voice for the past nine years. After her graduation from Olivet she received her Master's degree from the American Conservatory of Music, Chicago, and has studied at the University of Illinois.

Besides being Dean of Women she is Chairman of the Department of Voice in the Fine Arts Department. Her Sundays are occupied as Choir Director and Sunday School teacher at First Church of the Nazarene in Kankakee.

One year during her college days Miss Zook was assistant nurse and the following two years she was hostess in the dining hall. She has been soloist for Orpheus choir and this year will be her thirteenth season as a member of this organization. In 1944 she was elected to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

Miss Zook is assisted by Mrs. Ruth Donaldson, wife of the late Rev. Berton Donaldson.

Two Services Daily October 7 Through 13

We of Olivet shall be privileged to enjoy the ministry of Dr. Samuel Young during our approaching revival which will begin on October 7, and terminate on the following Sunday.

Dr. Young, who has to his credit many outstanding achievements and contributions in the Church of the Nazarene, will be a great source of added inspiration on the campus. He has served the church as pastor, district superintendent, president of Eastern Nazarene College, general superintendent, which he is at the present time, and in numerous other ways.

Through the years of Dr. Young's affiliation with the Nazarene Church his outstanding leadership combined with his wide and varied capacity of knowledge has been well evident. He received his Bachelor of Arts degree at Eastern Nazarene College, and his Master of Arts degree from Boston University.

Mr. Gerald Greenlee, assistant professor of voice, will be in charge of the music.

Services will be held each evening at 7:00 p. m., and each morning except Saturday at 11:30 a. m., in Howe Chapel.

Leonard, McMurrin To Head '52 Aurora

Heading the 1951-52 Aurora staff as editor-in-chief and business manager are Jim Leonard and Lee McMurrin. They were elected last spring but were not announced in the Glimmerglass. They will be assisted by Marilyn Starr, assistant editor, and Rick Edwards, assistant business manager.

James Leonard, editor for this year, is a three-year member of Orpheus Choir, and traveled in the summer of '50 with a quartet. He has filled the position of Minister of Music in one of our Danville Churches, was announcer and program director for WONC for two years, and took an active part in Chi Sigma Rho. He also was president of the N. E. I. club.

A very familiar personage to Olivet's students is the Aurora Business Manager, Lee McMurrin. Lee has been especially active in the sports program of Olivet, lettering three times in basketball, a three-year member of the "O" Club, and serving as its vice-president. He has been captain of the Trojan basketball team and in his freshman year at Olivet he was awarded a trophy as the most popular athlete of the year. He has been the writer of the fellows' sports column in the Glimmerglass for the past year.

Chosen to work with Jim Leonard as assistant editor, is Marilyn Starr, a sophomore. She played on the Spartan basketball and softball teams, and is an "O" Club pledge. She is her class representative to the WRA Council and is also a member of the library staff. Marilyn plans to teach physical education in secondary schools after completing her college work.

Richard Edwards, more familiarly known as "Rick", has been elected Assistant Business Manager. He served as Associate Business Manager last year. He is a second semester sophomore who hails from the town of Ridgeville, Indiana. Rick is a member of Ministerial Fellowship, has been a Glimmerglass reporter, and served as a cheerleader for the Spartan society.

SCHOLARSHIPS AWARDED

On Tuesday, September 25, the chapel service was given over to the awarding of scholarships to high ranking high school seniors. Five of these were in the education field, two being from the Katherine Howe Education Scholarship and three from the George M. Pullman Education Foundation. Music scholarships were also awarded.

Orpheus Personnel Is Announced

Tryouts for the Orpheus Choir have been completed and the 1951-52 version of the choir has been announced. The membership has been reduced from the 60 voices of last year to 49 for the ensuing season. Of exceptional quality and strength is the Bass-Baritone Section, which according to Prof. Larson probably is the best in the choir's 20 years history.

There are 15 new voices and faces among the Orpheus members this year of whom eight are Freshmen.

The Orpheus Choir membership has been announced as follows:

Soprano: Norma Allen, Betty Baldridge, Phyllis Blackwell, Barbara Carroll, Jewell Flaughner, Joann Frederick, Pauline Haiser, Phyllis McGraw, Marion Perkins, Anita Richards, Ann Wynn.

Alto: Margaret Albert, Jewell Britton, Violet Culbertson, Lais Gullet, Charlyn Hatcher, Wanda Kranich, Naomi Larsen, Dorris Moore, Rose Ann McAllister, Ruth McClain, Jacquelyn Spencer, Faye Williamson, Kathryn Zook.

Tenor: Gerald Barkey, Ed Behr, Frank Fitzgerald, Joe Hendricks, Irving Kranich, Ed Mattex, Cliff McClaid, Chuck McRoberts, Herb Pinner, Bob Reich, Jim Sheckler.

Orpheus To Assist In Church Music

Under the direction of Prof. Larsen, the Orpheus Choir is to provide special music the first Sunday evening of each month in the College Church service. The Viking and Treble Clef choirs will also sing in the College Church periodically. This is also true of the newly organized Chancel choir, which promises to play an important part in the campus musical activities this year.

ENROLLMENT

As of September 19, the enrollment stood at 780. The final enrollment of first semester last fall was 1,003.

Religion On The Campus

Rev. Larry Tucker was a special guest in the first Olivet chapel service on September 11. Rev. Tucker, pastor at Peru, Indiana, is N.Y.P.S. President of the North East Indiana District.

Dr. R. Wayne Gardner, new mathematics professor, spoke at the convocation service on September 11. His theme was "The Must at Olivet," in which he spoke of the valid truth of living in the center of God's will.

During the first week of the school year we were honored in our chapel services by having three of our leaders of Olivet as the special speakers. They were President Reed, Dr. Byron, and Dean McClain. All three gave very practical messages.

School has begun once again and it seems that the students of Olivet are going to enjoy a great year spiritually. The Student Prayer Meeting has been well attended and glorious notes of victory have been sounded.

September 9 through October 14, the local "Youth For Christ" will sponsor a Kankakee County wide revival featuring Rev. and Mrs. Guido as the special workers. The services will be held at the Civic Auditorium in Small Memorial Park with services at 7:30 p. m. and 3:00 p. m. on Sunday. George Psaute, former student of Olivet and pastor of the West Side Church of the Nazarene, will have charge of arranging the music program.

ONC STUDENT PLACES FIRST IN INTERNATIONAL COMPETITION

Olivet students won a total of $275.00 of the awards offered by Roberts International Competition in Editorial writing. Olivet College students submitted 21 of the 395 editorials entered in the contest. These students wrote their editorials as a project in Mrs. Bowman's English classes last semester.

Walter Smith, sophomore from Solon, Ohio, won first prize. His subject was "De-glamorizing Alcohol." Another one of the top four prizes was awarded to Janice Stauffer, now a senior. This prize of $50 represents her fine work on the editorial "It's Up to Us." Three other students, Paul Newby, Darrell Holland, and Maurice Kent, won $5 each in the preliminaries. Walter's prize editorial will appear in the October issue of the International Student.

Revival Quotes From ONC Leaders

"A few days ago I talked with General Superintendent Samuel Young about our fall revival. Dr. Young said if this revival means anything at all, we will have to have an 'all-out for souls' emphasis. We will have to enlist the entire faculty and student body in intercessory prayer. Prayer, faith and attendance will bring the victory."

Dr. Harold W. Reed, President

"Dr. Samuel Young, a mixture of Scotland and Ireland, brings to the pulpit the ruggedness of Scotland's rocky crags blended with the charm of the Irish humor and pathos. He is a preacher of rare spiritual insight. He is epigrammatic in style. He is vitally interested in and acquainted with youth, as former college pastor, professor and president. Every message will be solid with worth, lightened by wit, and lubricated by the unction of the Spirit. I anticipate his first message and all that will follow."

Lloyd B. Byron, College Pastor.

"And Jesus said—nothing shall be impossible to you. Howbeit, this kind goeth not out but by prayer and fasting."

Math. 17, 20:21

"As a new year begins here at Olivet, God is seeking out those students who will be willing to pay the price, and carry the old rugged cross, and let the revival begin in and through them. We all realize that the evangelist or the pastor cannot bring a revival. We as students must humble ourselves before Christ and pray the prayer of faith; believing that God will send the pentecostal fire upon us here in these next few weeks. We must have our own individual prayer meetings, as well as class, and church, and student prayer meetings. The revival and the spiritual success of this college year depends on us. Let's pray together and pull together. We must not fail God."

Ed Behr, President of Associated Students

"We all realize that we need an outpouring of God's spirit here at Olivet. We do not have to go out into the highways and hedges to find young people who need God, for they are right here amongst us; our friends, classmates, and possibly even our roommates. God help us as Christian young people to pray and fast, and to do our part to see that this revival gathers in these young people who are lost. For unless we do carry a burden, we may meet some of those young people on that great judgement day who have missed the road just because the Christians failed to do their duty."

Hardy Powers, Student Prayer Band President.

Introducing Edward Behr

President of the Associated Students of ONC; this is the prominent position that Edward Behr, versatile senior has on campus this year. Prior to his election last spring Ed served as a class president and student council member. Other extra-curricular organizations that claim Ed as a member are the Music Educators Club, the Olivet Band in which he has earned a letter and Orpheus and Vikings where he has served in the capacity of chaplain.

Athletically inclined Ed was elected to membership in the "O" Club and was named to the 1950 Football All-Stars for his expert and skillful playing as a member of the Trojans. In 1950 he shared the doubles championship in the tennis tournament and in 1951 was a runner-up in the singles division.

As a music education major Ed plans to teach or be a minister of music upon graduation. Voice is his applied major but also plays the trumpet. In the realm of musical favorites he has no special one but is fond of classical music.

Ed claims Caseville, Michigan, as his hometown although he received his early education in Pidgeon. Upon graduation Ed entered the U. S. Army where he served for two years, a year of which was spent in the Bermuda Islands.

When time permits Ed is an active sportsman with hunting and fishing topping the list. This probably accounts for the fact that he has a taste for good food and would sit down anytime to a steak smothered in onions or a plate of Chinese food.

As student body president Ed has as his goal complete harmony among all personnel on campus and above all he desires to see a deep, realistic spirituality prevail over the campus this academic year.

FROM
STUDY

I have been thinking of Olivet, of what it has been and of what it can be; and after giving proper credit to those who have labored and prayed and given in the yesteryears, I come to the conclusion that in large measure Olivet will be what YOU make it.

I think of what students of other years have done for Olivet by their hard work, their earnest plans, and their sincere prayers; but the Olivet of tomorrow is out of their reach. It will be what you make it.

I think of the excellent facilities of Olivet, the top-notch professors, these splendid buildings, the improvement in equipment, these spacious grounds; but these do not make Olivet. It will be what you make it.

I think of the investments of the thousands of faithful folk across the years, money that has carried Olivet over many distresses and near calamities, money that his spelled sacrifice in many an instance, and labors beyond the recompense of money; but these alone cannot make Olivet. It will be what you make it.

I think of the loyal members of our faculty, with their many years of training and preparation, with their willingness to give their all for so little in financial remuneration; but these alone cannot make Olivet. It will be what you make it.

I think of the many projects carried through by student body action, of lights and roads and rooms for example, all designed to give you an improved Olivet; but these alone cannot make Olivet. It will be what you make it.

I think of the spiritual emphasis that has characterized Olivet, of the faith and heroism of its presidents in the face of great crises, of the spiritual intensity of the students, of the revival visitations; but these alone cannot make Olivet. It will be what you make it.

I think of the discouragements resisted, of burdens carried, of tragedies suffered, of catastrophes averted, of hopes long nurtured, of hardships endured, of the long hard pull it has been for presidents, faculty members, students, and all lovers of Olivet; but these alone cannot make Olivet.

Lloyd B. Byron

Editorial

Once more vacation is over and we're already enmeshed in another school year. We have before us a whole year. What are we going to do with it?

A common answer might go thus: "Well, go to school five days a week, loaf on Saturday, attend church on Sunday, date some, maybe enter some extracurricular activities, and what time is left I can sleep. Anyway I'm not going to overwork myself."

But is the college student who has this philosophy of life really living so that he is enjoying life to its richest extent? Or is his life a mere humdrum existence? It can be either — the choice is up to the individual.

Living without any definite purpose or goal does not even seem worthwhile. What self satisfaction is there in "just getting by"? That work that we do above the actual requirement is that which counts most.

During this year, let's strive to do the maximum, not the minimum, so that we might excel in all that we attempt.

Why be content to accept the mediocre when just a bit more effort will give you the best.

The world is full of people that are about half-way up the latter of success. But there is yet much room at the top. No matter what your field or chosen vocation is that you intend to follow there is plenty of room at the top for you to excel. Diligent work will give its due reward.

QUOTES . . .

Profit by the mistakes of others; you may not live long enough to make all of them yourself.

* * *

What we do for ourselves alone dies with us;

What we do for others and the world remains and is immortal.

The fellow who is up and doing is never down and out.

"Hello There"!

If you heard someone shouting this up on the sky floor of Burke Hall it was probably a student in The Speaking Voice developing a little more volume.

If you heard someone talking to himself in a persuasive manner it was probably someone in Argumentation and Debate having some basic training in the subject.

Or, if you had peeped into the Speech Annex Tuesday morning you might have seen and heard Bernard Archer saying "twinkle twinkle little star." You should have heard him! But it was just a part of the training in Interpretation of Poetry.

The students in Fundamentals of Radio frightened the janitors on the fourth floor last Thursday night. They stopped sweeping and watched the boys walk in a strange way across the room. But it really was just an exercise to help them overcome self consciousness and make them feel at home in front of a mike.

We have three rules in public speaking the three S's —Stand up, speak up, and shut up! Most of the boys and girls in Speech are already able to do this.

We might add a fourth S for a writer, and that's STOP. So I guess I had better.

A FRESHMAN SPEAKS . . .

Freshman! Stop and look around about you. Yes, it's true you are at Olivet and in your third week of campus life. You are receiving a wonderful heritage from Olivet. An heritage that has been built up over the years only through the work and sacrifice of many of our church leaders. Keep God and that thought before you in the next four years and you'll find at the end an achievement that only a few can attain.

Let all of us in the student body realize what a responsibility we carry. God has blessed us with a fine group of leaders this year. Pray for them and give them your fullest cooperation that we may make this such a year of achievement that it will never be forgotten in Olivet's history. Remember the coming revival for from it we will be able to grow.

Finally let us remember: "He can never be God's martyr, that is the devil's servant."

You must settle now, at the beginning of the year, and decide what trend you intend to follow in your college life. Are you going to align yourself up with the standards maintained by the college or are you deliberately disregarding them. The standards of our church and our college always have been high. Let us as freshmen help maintain them as such.

The Wagon Tongue

The class of '55 has arrived safe and sound One Freshman girl thought Initiation consisted of a date she had with a Senior His name slips our mind (?) at the moment, but we recall that he is the only Indian in the Trojan Society Faith Fry is another Freshman girl with powers to beguile upper-classmen At least Don Durick thinks so One look at her and Don forgot all about a Sneak Committee meeting the other night.

Nice to see familiar faces still appearing in pairs Chris Strahl and Curt Brady Marge Geeding and Wally Smith Lois Miller and Bill Legge Bob Reich and Mary Harrold Sherrill Wellman and anyone that happens to be around at the moment.

The same night we saw Jewell Britton and Tom Webster coming out of Williams Hall, we saw Bud Champion going in He must have circled the spot on his MAPS as a place of extreme.

Almost printed this issue of the Glimmerglass on large size Kleenex for occupants of the girls' dorm to use when they learn that Roy Hendly has eyes only for Nampa beauty.

SERVICE - IZED

Navy blue, with emphasis on the Navy, has been the prevalent color the last few days, with Ray Brodien and Merrill Johnson back from Great Lakes boot camp Carole Thompson is up in the clouds about Lee Beard, who is serving in the Air Corps. Any information concerning Craig Baum's whereabouts will be cherrfully given by Gayl Gardner Craig is now stationed at Paris Island, South Carolina, keeping the Marine Corps on its toes.

SNEE-KWIPS

Five a. m., Monday morning, Sept. 17, found jumpy Junior leaving sleepy Seniors safely in their beds only to be awakened by noisy radiators and a Manteno bus going by the girls' dorm. Part of the class may have been caught outside of the dorm, but some Seniors slept soundly while their Junior roommates left Harlow (Three-cornered) Hopkins hustled from Hendley, Boots Drake ditched Carole Thompson, Cal Johnson aRose Harriet Boughan gave Swanny the slip, and Don Bell bustled from Purple Heart Mattax just to mention a few. Wesley Stoops even got a couple Juniors up by mistake.

Why on earth does it take a couple representing Chicago and Flint, Michigan two hours to walk six blocks? Pedestrians in the Windy City were entertained by "Flash - Gun" Strickler jumping up and down in front of the Morrison Hotel shouting, "Don't jump off that roof!" The Junior class claims there wasn't anyone up there.... Oh Ho and Ah Ha! Is that what happens to Junior Class Sponsors!

Some of the "Big-Guns" on the return trip from Chi, maintaining their positions in the horsey set with unwavering aim were Chuck McCullough, Dick Neiderhiser, Vic (Speech) Doner, Don (Horse!) Bell, and Lindy Thorne The Juniors found their busses were a little more crowded coming home, due to the presence of many little squirts.

Climax to a successful (?) sneak was the announcement of the engagement of Boots Drake and Carl Baker. Congratulations!

QUOTABLE QUOTES

Paul Henderson — "I want my horn."

Martha Morris — "Where is that bus?"

Don Wynn to Senior Class — "Aisle see that you're seated"

Prof. Strickler — "Couples are always holding up the bus."

Neil Swanson to Jo Major — "Please pass that peppermint!"

This old tongue has wagged at both ends this time And finds great need for rest after trying to keep up with the Juniors and Seniors, and waiting for Freshman Initiation And so, silence for the next few days Here's looking at you!

Football-Softball Preview

Fall is here, and along with it on the Olivet campus, comes football and softball, the two intramural sports that Olivet athletes annually condition for when the leaves start to fall from the trees.

Both sports were scheduled to pry the lid off the respective sport openers last Monday on the Olivet athletic field. In football, the defending champion Trojans, this year under the guidance of Cal Johnson, were scheduled to open against the Indians, under the tutoring of Don Bell.

In softball, the defending Indians will tackle last year's last place Trojans. As this is being written, Indian Mentor Jim Hogan is still in search for a pitcher of capability in the local loop. Tom Pauley and Vic Doner will be co-managers of the Trojans, who will be relying on Lowell Oberlander for hill duty.

The Spartans, unmentioned up to this point, this year will be coached by Don Durick, an all-star softball hurler of the '50 fall season. Incidentally, the men in green this season will be decked out in brand new Irish green and white uniforms. Their football squad will open against the Indians in the second set of games as will the softball nine.

The Trojans and Spartans complete the first round set-to in the annual fall classics, and the procedure will thus

JEMS by JEWEL

Indians! Trojans! Spartans! These are three of the most frequently spoken words that you freshmen have been hearing since settling down to reside on Olivet's fair campus. Some of you have been wondering what these words are all about and why the upperclassmen are so enthusiastic about them.

The school has organized these three societies to encourage school spirit, to build up competition among the athletic students, and to provide social activities for ardent sport fans.

The girls play softball in the fall and spring with basketball to occupy the winter months. Also, in the spring the girls participate in the annual Field Day events.

We hope that all of you will make a choice as to the society which you wish to join. Some have said they can't play ball or aren't the athletic type so they aren't bothering to join a society. But it isn't necessary to participate actively to join one of the three societies.

We need to have a good cheering section and loyal supporters if we want to win the game. So you as a spectator are important too.

It will soon be time for the girls softball games to begin so all you gals that like to play contact some member of the society of your choice. Bernice Shearer is the coach of the Spartan girls, but as yet the Indians and Trojans have not selected their coaches.

Come on out to the diamond and join in the fun — remember, you don't have to be a "star" to participate.

Does the administration of ONC encourage a program of all work and no play . . . all study hours and restrictions and no recreation and relaxation? "Olivetians," as we proceed with this column I believe we will find a solution.

Under the sponsorship of the three athletic societies: the Spartans, Indians, and Trojans, the athletic program has been centered around highly enthusiastic intramural competition. The three societies have their officers, coaches, cheerleaders, members, and teams, and also purchases its own uniforms, advertising, and other needed miscellaneous items.

An extensive program of athletics is carried out during the year beginning with softball and football, carrying through with basketball which is tipped off by "tip-off." This great American game is the main attraction during the cold winter months. Then in the spring when young mens' fancy turns to love, they also turn to baseball, tennis, and track and field events. The track and field events are climaxed by Field Day.

The gymnasium with its facilities offers opportunity for tennis, table tennis, badminton, swimming, tumbling, track and shuffle board. Periods and evenings for free play and free swimming are scheduled.

As you can observe, the administration has given us opportunity for much and varied activity, so join the society of your choice. Offer your abilities, possibilities, loyalty, cooperation, and enthusiasm to your society. It is this kind of participation that will make athletics a lively feature at ONC.

INDIAN? SPARTAN? TROJAN?

Have YOU joined one of the societies yet? Each society is eager to increase their membership but they can not do it without your participation. Freshmen, find out who the society officers are and sign up immediately. Remember ONC sports are just what you make them!

Softball Line-ups Feature Frosh

Fall is here again and America's sports eyes are again turned toward baseball, softball, and football. Olivet is no exception, therefore our three societies are putting the finishing touches on their softball squads in preparation for the big opener between the Indians and Trojans, Monday, September 24.

Favored this year, are the green-clad boys of the Spartan society. With their veteran speed-ball hurler and coach, Don Durick, leading the way, they are anticipating a fine season. Don has several frosh backing him up, including Don Watson, Don Mathews, and Dick Schultz.

Under the managerial devices of diminutive Vic Doner and center fielder Tom Pauley, the Trojans are trying to vacate their cellar spot of last year. Frosh on the blue and white nine include Tom Craig, Dave Miller, Doc York, and Ralph Parker.

Last, but not least, we have the defending champions, the Indians. Under the leadership of coach and shortstop, Jim Hogan, the Red and White array will be trying to retain their championship. Just as the other teams have done, the Indians are also using several rookies. Among these are Gene Houghin, Gene Morgan, David Thill, Ramon Richards, Paul Herring, and Windy Parsons.

What do you say, fans, even though you can't play, why not turn out for your society and root them on to victory?

U. S. Navy Announces College Training Program Tests

The Navy announced recently that the sixth nation-wide competitive examination for its College Training Program has been scheduled for December 8, 1951, and will be open to high school seniors or graduates within the age requirements. Successful candidates will be given a four-year college education at government expense and will be commissioned as officers of the Navy or Marine Corps upon graduation.

The program is open to male citizens of the United States between the ages of 17 and 21, and quotas have been assigned to each state and territory on the basis of its high school population.

The students selected by these competitive examinations will be assigned to the 52 Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps units which are located in various universities and colleges in the United States. If accepted by the college, they will be appointed Midshipmen, U.S.N.R., and will have their tuition, books, and normal fees paid for by the Government. In addition they will receive pay at the rate of $50.00 a month for the four-year period. Upon graduation they may be commissioned as officers in the Regular Navy or Marine Corps and required to serve on active duty for two years.

Dean McClean, who is acting as the Navy's local civilian representative, will be pleased to provide specific information about the program, including the time and place of the competitive examination, the method of making application, and the specific age and scholastic qualifications.
